In the second hour the turn-over was no more than 12,000 shares, and in the third hour even less, and up to 2 o'clock only 120,000 shares had changed hands. But in the last hour zest was imparted to the trading by the publication of the government crop report, and stocks advanced buoyantly in a market that was comparatively active. It had been expected, September weather having been externely favorable, that the report would show an improvement in the condition of the leading crops as of October 1, as compared with September 1 but the actual figures surpassed even the most sangulne expectations.

The estimated yields of corn, wheat, and oats were all far above the September Central Corn, wheat, and one of the Corn, wheat, and one of the Corn, wheat, and one of the Corn, wheat

COTTON MARKET.

Quotations furnished by W. B. Hibbs & Co., members of the New York Stock Exchange, Hibbs

New York, Oct. 10.—The market was nervous in the late afternoon because of the announced failure of the firm of Argo, Jester & Co. This is a small firm, composed mostly of Augusta, Ga., men. They per box, 50a75; celery, per crate, 2.75a4.00; repress, per basket, 1.00al.75; tomatoes, home of the firm of Argo, Jester & Co. This is a small per box, 50a75; celery, per crate, 2.75a4.00; repress, per basket, 1.00al.75; tomatoes, home of box firm, composed to be on the short side of the market turning, per dozen bunches, 25a27; beets, 100 bt 5000 below for their customers, and the buying in of about 1.50a2.25; green corn, per dozen ears, 10al7. were supposed to be on the short side of the market for their custamers, and the buying in of about 5,000 bales of options to replace their contracts they had previously sold to other brokers, advanced prices to the high level of 4 to 13 over Saturday's prices. This is a comparatively new firm in the cotton exchange business, otherwise it is not likely they would have failed. It is the first failure to have occurred on the New York Cotton Exchange throughout the year's excitement, and heavy floctures are not have followed in the last ten months in its history. It is supposed this firm sold cotton to customers who could not respond to the additional margin call.

It is said they had a capital in the firm of about 55,000. It may have been more or less.

Beyond the occurrences above noted, however, the failure had very little influence, either on the mark ket or general scaniment. It however, served to be heavy losses which many traders have mourred in the recent sharp fluctuations following an advanced an entirely unexpected character of about 150 points or $7.50 per bale in the last two or three works.
